

Alan Welch

Alan Welch made his home in Greensboro in 2005 along with his wife Pat and their golden retriever, Quincy. Alan spent two years active duty in the US Army and enjoyed a career with Procter and Gamble. Since retirement, he has served as a productive member of his community by active involvement in the property association as well as the food and beverage committee.